'In Appreciation

A book is dedicated to a person because the life of that individual is dedicated to a purpose beyond itself. Mrs. Corsi, who received her A.B. degree from the University of Michigan and her M.A. degree from Ball State Teachers College, has been teaching in Richmond for fifteen years. Although she has not been with us this year during a leave of absence, we have not forgotten her. Therefore, we, the students of RHS, wish to express our appreciation to Mrs. Uldean Corsi who to us exemplifies this type of dedication.

For the past one hundred and ninety days approximately 22 hundred RHS students, have seen the crowning tower of our school each time we have entered the building. Since the completion of our present building in 1938, the tower has been a symbol for Richmond Senior High School. The year 1964 has been no exception. The tower has appeared in our pictures, on our posters, and on our painted senior cords. As RHS students, we have chatted with our friends under its shadow, cheered for our team which represents its school, and won honors for its red and white colors. Filling Christmas baskets and fulfilling community service projects became important to us. We wrote term papers, studied English literature, did chemistry experiments, and worked hard. We joined clubs, had parties, sponsored dances, and spent evenings at the TAC club. Yes, we all belonged to the wonderful world.

Inspired by Classes, Studies, and Work

Everyone takes advantage of extra study time in class

Studying plays an important role in the life of an RHS student. The teachers and administrators attempt to prepare the pupils for life after high school. Students planning to go to college take courses that will help them develop good study habits through hard work and will give them the academic background needed for college. Students are often asked to do projects on their own so they can learn to organize thoughts on paper and read books other than the text book. This will give the student many different view points to think about.

Social life of Richmond Senior High School gives the students a chance to be with friends and to have good times. From social hall to sports events and formal dances the students of RHS gain the social poise necessary for success in future life.

A student of Richmond Senior High School has before him the facilities with which to train himself for any profession of his choice, be it housekeeping, vocational work, engineering, or a job with the fine arts. The counseling department, located in a newly equipped room on the first floor, is always willing to help students with schedules problems, classroom problems, and after-high-school plans. R.H.S. students may choose from a list of subjects numbering well over one hundred. Each subject is taught by a capable teacher, well-trained in his chosen field and graduated from some of the top colleges in our country. Over sixty per cent of our faculty holds masters' degrees. Yes, all two thousand and one hundred devils who attend R.H.S. are indeed grateful for their scholastic opportunities and their able faculty and administration.

ACADEMICS AND FACULTY

Science Students Study the Facts and

All matter is made up of atoms, and all atoms are made up of protons, neutrons, and electrons. The future of our country is involved in some of the every principles that are taught to students through the science courses at RHS Nuclear fission and the resulting nuclear explosion form just one example of the growing importance of science today. When students are able to follow their curiosity and explore their surroundings, the world becomes a much easier place to understand.

The science department is looking ahead in attempting to meet the growing importance of science in today's world. New and well-equipped science laboratories enable the students to put the laws of science to a test. An honor science class has been started for those students who display ability in science.

Explore the Physical and Chemical Worlds

Biology is concerned with "man as a species and his place in nature." Biology I includes the nature of the environment, the plant, its structure and functions, and the invertebrate animals. Biology 2 includes the vertebrate animals, human body systems, and heredity.

The purpose of chemistry is to give a basic understanding of the chemical properties and chemical behavior of substances and an appreciation of the role of chemistry in modern industry and life.

Earth science includes a study of the entire earth, from the outer limits of the atmosphere to the very center of the earth, and its place in the universe.

The honors science program is a three-year science program designed for those students who plan to major in some form of science in college or who are primarily interested in the physical sciences and want advanced work as preparation.

Math Students Struggle to Find

Individual instruction is a necessary part of mathematical learning

In today's world math and science are being stressed more than before. RHS has developed a mathematical sequence for students wishing to major in math which is designed to meet the increasing need of the times.

The first of this sequence is geometry. In this course the student becomes acquainted with basic geometric constructions, theorems, and formulas.

Algebra reviews the algebra taught in the junior high schools and goes on to teach more advanced algebraic manipulations.

One semester of trig acquaints the math major with the many functions of the triangle.

the Right Answers and Learn the Theories

Analysis is necessary for a major in mathematics. This course offers the academic student rich experiences and provides a background for those students who wish to do further work in a math-related area after graduation.

For those students who want or need a review of math, senior mathematics and arithmetic review are offered.

The reading lab gives students an opportunity to increase their reading speed.

English is a required subject at RHS Students must complete five semesters of English to graduate. Students are offered academic, general, and advanced placement English.

Students learn the skills of writing compositions, essays, and term papers. They study American literature and English literature. They are taught the art of speaking in front of a group, and, thus, their grammar is improved. Spelling tests and book reports are also very familiar.

Reading skills are improved by a six weeks course in the developmental reading lab. Students learn to read one fixation per line. During the first three weeks the pupils are taught the basic fundamentals of reading. Films and timed reading are used to test the students' progress. Much time is also spent reading on the pacers.

English Teaches Us to Express

Academic English is divided into six courses. English 1 and 2 are devoted to literature and grammar. English 3 is a combination of self-instructed grammar and speeches. American literature is the subject studied in English 4. English 5 is a composition course. The student learns to do a term paper, essays, and outlines. English 6a is spent studying the important English literary works and English authors.

General English offers those students who are not planning to attend college a chance to learn the essentials of the language. Basic grammatical structure and literature are studied.

The Advanced Placement English course, now in its fifth year at R.H.S., is offered to those students who qualify academically. These students study literature and composition on a college level.

Diagramming sentences, a part of English 1 and 2, is designed to show the student the functional value of gramma:

The Foreign Language Department offers a wide range of study in Spanish, French, and Latin. The study of these languages broadens the students' understanding of toreign cultural patterns and the people of the respective nations. One phase of the language department is the language lab, which offers a great opportunity to students who wish to improve their pronunciation and to hear the foreign language spoken in the native tongue.

At left: Bulletin boards increase functional use of language Below: The language laboratory aids in the improvement of pronunciation

Foreign Languages Introduce Us to

The language department uses many visual aids to facilitate instruction. Movies with foreign language dialogues and film strips with captions in the foreign language help the student to comprehend the written and spoken language and to understand the foreign country. Posters, charts, and projects aid the teacher in pointing out the customs and background of the countries whose language they are studying.

Maps and bulletin hoards supplement classroom discussion and on occasion offer opportunities for atudent participation and creativity

The Social Studies Department at RHS gives the students many areas of studies from which to choose. United States History, which is usually taken in the eleventh grade, helps the student understand the background, problems, and strong points of his country. American Government gives a basic outline of the national and local governmental systems. American problems, which deals with national situations, or Pacific relations, which stresses the relationship of the U.S. to other countries, may be taken to meet a local and state requirement for graduation. Other areas of the Social Studies Department include world history, world affairs, modern history, geography, economics and sociology. Psychology may also be counted as a social science class.

The Business Education Department consists of three specialized curriculums: Stenographic, Bookkeeping, and General Business.

The stenographic curriculum is designed for those students who plan to be secretaries. Courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business math, business. English, and clerical practice are taken by those students following this curriculum.

The bookkeeping courses give the students practice and experience in elementary bookkeeping and partnership and corporation accounting. Classes in general business, business law, and office practice may also be included.

General business classes provide instruction and practice in the performance of elementary business transactions. Emphasis is placed on those business events and practices which are most likely to confront the ordinary individual.

Industrial Arts and Home Economics Train

Mechanical drawing deals with the fundamentals of mechanical drawing and blueprint reading

The goals of the industrial art department is to provide students with knowledge and a degree of skill in the use of hand and machine tools, knowledge of the materials and processes as used in modern trades and industries, and the general all-round development of the individual as a productive citizen.

Industrial arts laboratories are offered in which a student may continue to sample one or more major occupational classifications of the trades or industry. Practical work experiences are provided in these industrial arts courses. Students work on projects of their own designs or make or repair students designed for the schools under the guidance of the instructor.

Students to Work With Hands and Minds.

Courses in the Home Economics Department provide valuable and practical help in home living for both boys and girls. Home economics classes offer each girl opportunities for participation in activities related to personal, home, and family living. Here social poise, ability to manage, and competence in homemaking, and vocational skills may be developed. Courses available are: Clothing 1, 2, 3, 4, ... Foods 1, 2, 3, 4, ... Homemaking for boys ... Home Management ... Home Nursing ... Today's Living.

Two semesters of physical education are required for graduation from Richmond Senior High School. Usually this requirement is met in the tenth grade. Activities include calisthenics, marching, baseball, basketball, hockey, golf, and square dancing. Tumbling and trampoline stunts are also enjoyed. Girls' physical education classes also have units in ping pong, volleyball, and badminton. Physical education for boys also includes football and certain physical tests which must be passed. The physical education course is basically designed to keep Richmond's youth physically fit.

One semester of swimming may be substituted for a semester of physical education in order to meet this requirement. The facilities at the local Y.M.C.A.

and Y.W.C.A. are used for this course.

The program enables all pupils, whether they possess talents or not, to experience the adventure of creative expression. The Music Department of R.H.S. is composed of 3 choirs and 5 bands. R.H.S. is proud of the honors which the music department has brought back. The annual concerts provided entertainment for every type of music lover.

Schedule Conflicts, College Information, and Testing . . .

Trained counselors help the student to plan his schedule and assist him in deciding what he will do after graduation. They use the results from tests taken in the tenth and eleventh grade and the student's general academic record to show the pupil in which areas he is excelling. From these the student is able to make a decision on what he wants to do.

Students who need further assistance on deciding where to go to college may consult Mrs. Friberg, Dean of Girls. From the information one has obtained through his counselor, she is able to aid him. She can tell the student what colleges and universities have a good program for the fields of study that he wishes to take.

Aptitude, school adjustment, interest, and personality tests are the kinds of tests given to the students. In addition to the standardized tests given to all students, special ones are administered to students; usually this is done by the recommendation of the counselors.

RHS is one of the few high schools in the United States that uses IBM test scoring equipment to grade tests. The tests are used by the counselors and students for guidance purposes. They are used by the teachers to better under stand the abilities and problems of students. They are also used by the administration staff for curriculum development and in numerous other ways.

The social activity at RHS this past year was swirl of dances, parties, dates, evenings at TAC, and sports events. The Football Fling, sponsored by Y-Teen Cabinet, kicked the Devils into the 1963-1964 social calendar. Hi-Y's 1963 Homecoming was a gay combination of a parade, pep session, crowning of the queen, and a spectacular dance. An RHS victory over Chaminade perfected the event. Hi-Y and Y-Teens got together a little later for a United Fund dance to display our students' support of such a cause. A stately king and his court reigned at the annual Block R dance. The Snowball was a marvelous occasion for those who attended. Junior Class outdid themselves again to give the seniors a gala Junior-Senior Prom. TAC club, dances, movies, and the many varied activities kept the Devils always on the go; but all good things must end. The social calendar for 1963-1964 was drawn to a close with Commencement 1964. These comprised ...

Santa Claus sitting in his sleigh atop a roof was the scene in the center of Civic Hall for Snowball of 1963. A red and white ceiling draped in a rooftop effect and blue snowflakes on a white background also added other special touches to the occasion. The couples danced til' midnight to the music of the Doug Mulligan's band. At eleven that night Gayle Kohn was crowned Snowball Queen. As the enchanted hour of midnight neared, couples began to depart to restaurants and parties to end a wonderful evening which will always be remembered. The Hi-Y Club sponsored the dance.

This year's wrestling team had five wins, 4 losses and 2 tied matches. The squad had two outstanding achievements: Second in the Kokomo Fourway Meet, and fourth in the North Central Conference.

Individual success was gained by Doug Kaler. His record was a 17-3-1. He was noted as the outstanding wrestler of the Arlington regionals because of his impressive victory over last year's 154 lb. champion. Doug was second in both the sectional and regional matches.

Jim Deloney the hundred and thirty-three pound N.C.C. champ had an overall record of 18-3-1. He came in first in both the Kokomo meet and the Sectional. He then placed second in the regional.

The twelve man team will all return next year except Doug Kaler and Dan Senese. Therefore, we can look forward to a strong team next year.

INTRAMURALS

This year two teams tied for the high school intramural championship. The two captains, Dave Turner and Mike Dozza, both believe their team could out play, out shoot, and out score each other's team. Because the basketball team won the sectional and went on to the regional games, it was impossible for the final victory game to be played. Looking over each team's statistics would show that the last game would have been interesting.

The victory bell was happily rung this year by the four varsity cheerlenders: Kathy Hiday, Linda Gennett, Sharon Sittloh, and Jame Kitchel

Story of Our Victory Bell

In 1854 a schoolhouse was built in Boston Township. It was known as Boston Township School House No. 4. This school had in its tower a bell. In 1883 the school was damaged by fire and was rebuilt within the next two or three years. As far as is known, the bell was placed in the remodeled school. No. 4 was abandoned as a school in 1939. When the school was made into a house in 1942, the bell, for some unknown reason, was given to Commons Lumber Company, and there the bell remained until 1942.

November of 1942 found the United States in the middle of World War II. At this time, clubs, private citizens, and schools were sponsoring and participating in scrap metal drives. The metal was collected in order to be melted down and re-cast into bullets, tanks, and equipment for the men in our armed forces. People were asked to save old keys, door knobs, tin cans, screws, nails, old garden tools, or anything metal. In November of that year RHS had a scrap metal drive and all the students participated in the effort. They went from door to door, collecting the metal, and it was placed in the area north of the high school, the vacant area stretching toward Millers. In the 1943 Pierian, there is a picture of the largest piece of scrap metal that RHS students collected, a threshing machine.

For this metal drive Commons Lumber Company donated the No. 4 schoolhouse bell. After the bell had been given for the drive, someone decided it would make a fine war victory bell. The school agreed, and permission from Commons Lumber Company was sought. Mr. Robert Commons and his brother, Carlton Commons, gave their approval, and the bell was carried into Social Hall. A platform was built for it, and it remained idle in Social Hall under the condition that it would ring only after the guns of World War II were silent and the United States was victorious. With signing of peace, the bell was then hung in the tower and is rung after every home victory our athletic teams bring for RHS.

Paula Yuengert

The "B" team cheerleaders, Marilyn Balthis, Cordelia Oxendine, and Sue Johnson did a fine job of backing the team this year.

Richmond High School's Concert Choir is one of the best in the state. They perform for many civic organizations and special social functions. Along with these activities, they have two formal concerts, one in the fall semester at Christmas and one in the spring semester. The choir also takes a trip in the spring to other school for a concert and to promote better school relations throughout the state.

Members of the choir must take at least one semester of cadet choir in before entering concert choir. Girls must have additional semester of training in girls' choir.

At Christmas time, besides singing for the service clubs, the choir makes a Christmas record that is sold in the community.

In the spring, the choir participates in a choral festival. The festival was held at Hagerstown this year.

Y-Teens Strive to Uphold Christian Ideals

Y-Teens is the largest organization at high school with an enrollment of seven-hundred. These girls are divided into nincteen different groups with a cabinet leader heading each group. Y-Teens is an international organization formed for service to the entire world.

Many activities were planned and carried out by the cabinet members and their groups. The nut sale was the big activity for the month of November. The YWCA toy counter and the Hanging of the Greens were two Christmas time events

The new year started off with the Cabinet We Three. The Mardi Gras and Grand Tea were two events held in the spring. The 1963-64 Y-Teens proved to make this year a very profitable one for all.

The officers for the Y-Teens this year were Anne Coble. President; Vicki Hamilton, Vice president: Rosi Astesano, Secretary; Joyce Floretta, Treasurer.

TAC Council Provides Recreation

Judy Best, Chaplain; Jane Loewer. Vice-President; Greg Rhodes, President; Marcia Sella, Secretary; Bill Foley, Sergeant-at Arms

The 1963-64 TAC Council increased its duties and functions with the addition of several community functions. The 22 member council built a float for the Get-out-and-vote parade, and constructed a beautiful float for Santa Claus in the annual Christmas parade. They played an important role in the Toy Counter project, and helped sponsor the Junior Miss pageant.

TAC Council sponsored three major dances including the very successful Hootenanny and the annual Senior Send-Off dance at the close of the year.

Council worked hard on projects this year but found time to have some fun too. They took a bus trip to an out-of-town basketball and football game and joined other students in the annual TAC sponsored trip to Bob Braun's bandstand.

In October TAC Council aponsored a hootenamy a popular type of entertainment in 1964. Featured at the hootenamy were Shirley Geter and the Forte 23's

A new service project for the year was the construction of a float to carry Santa Claus in the annual Downtown Merchants' Christmas Parade. Jim Adney and Tala Smock were in charge of the float

Acknowledgements

The members of the 1964 Pierian staff would like to take this opportunity to thank the people and organizations who helped make possible this 1964 Perian.

To Mr. Reed, who listened to all our problems and helped in every way, we would like to extend a special thanks for his co-operation and concern. Mrs. Friberg, Mr. Coons, and Mr. McConnell deserve a thanks for their help. To Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Denning, and the rest of the office staff goes an emphatic thanks for all the paper clips, ink remover, and assistance.

To Mr. Bill Wallace, Pierian photographer, we say thanks for the many hours of work. Mr. Wallace helped the staff in every possible way.

Mr. Pyle, Mr. Larry Porter, and Mr. Clarence Lynxwiler are well represented in senior pictures and pictures of the cheerleaders, Y-Teen cabinet, and the queens and their courts. The contribution of the pictures of the tower on page 3 by the Graphic was greatly appreciated. To the Palladium-Item goes a thanks for activity and sports pictures.

We would also like to thank Mr. Kaiser for helping with pictures.

We would also like to recognize the Inter-Collegiate Press representatives for their assistance.

To our sponsors, Miss Barbara Archer and Mr. Terry Weir we extend a very special thanks. Miss Archer listened to us scream each day during sixth hour as we tried to put together a yearbook. Mr. Weir spent hours trying to balance our budget. It was they who listened to our problems and shared the headaches of production.

To you the student body without whom this book would never have been possible also goes a THANKS from the editor and staff of your 1964 Pierian.

This year's sponsors were Miss Barbara Archer and Mr Terry Weir

Sleepless nights, lost copy, missing pictures, forgotten names, and missed deadlines have been very common to this 1964 staff. We were glad to get done, but we all enjoyed the work. We hope that you enjoy this 1964 Pierian as much as we enjoyed doing it.
